The control of Covid-19 pandemic will need to address the inequalities; all countries of the world must have equal access to vaccines and the benefits of the transforming triad: education, health, and science. Accordingly, it is urgent the practice of UBUNTU. This Bantu language-derived African word reflects the concept of humanity so that each and all human beings are interconnected, being part of a worldwide network of solidary behavior:

“I am because we are”.

Science and Health to defend life and well-being
